For the proponent of the theory of religious pluralism, the criterion for distinguishing and judging is not theoretical but ethical and practical. May nothing inspire more than his life, which impels us onwards!

Wefoundotherproductsyoumightlike! In her ongoing discernment, the Church can also come to see that certain customs not directly connected to the heart of the Gospel, even some which have deep historical roots, are no longer properly understood and appreciated. Thus, there is no room for accepting the emanation theory in the arguments of both sects. Preface and Acknowledgements I greatly appreciate the interest and support I received from Charles Prebish and Damien Keown, who first came up with the idea of doing this book.
